RESEARCH SCAVENGER HUNT

Go to Wikipedia

Search “Happiness”

Scan through the article. When you find an idea you like, click on the hyperlink for more information. Write the hyperlink word here: ______________________

Go to the bottom of the new article.

Create a list of 5 sources used to verify the claims in that article. These are at the very bottom of the page. Write the title and author(s) below:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

Click the hyperlink for the publisher of the source - OR -

Go to the Porterville College website. Go to Student Services, then Library. Scroll down and choose the “EBSCOhost Databases” from the list. (If prompted, enter your student ID number). Select “Academic Search Premier.” Enter the article title.

If you cannot find the article using the link or the database, choose a new article.

Otherwise, proceed the next part.

Review each article. Answer the following (if the article is not in the database, you will need to find a new article):

Do you think the source is credible? Why or why not?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

Adapted by Jackie Williams for Porterville College
List one source used by the author’s to support their article:

____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

Was the article helpful? Why or why not?

____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

How could you use this for your happiness project?

____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

Review your experience:

____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________