On August 23, 2006, representative from Cosumnes River College and Sacramento State met in an outdoor ceremony in front of the new bookstore to sign a new Memorandum of Understanding between the two institutions. Modeled on a memorandum of understanding between Sacramento State and the Los Rios Community College District, the CRC / Sacramento State MOU is meant to further define areas of collaboration between Sacramento State and CRC.

The new CRC / CSUS nineteen points of collaboration include the following:

- California State University, Sacramento, and Cosumnes River College will work to develop and promote a Blended Math Teacher Preparation Program to enhance the transfer of students seeking a high school teaching credential in mathematics.
- California State University, Sacramento, and Cosumnes River College will facilitate discussions between their respective child development departments to ensure Early Childhood Education / Family and Consumer Science course articulation, with an emphasis on addressing workforce needs.
- Cosumnes River College is establishing a Freshman Seminar course for new full-time students parallel to the Learning Communities available to first-year CSUS students. CRC will promote discipline-based learning communities to assist students to develop the study skills and academic success strategies required of students transferring to the University.
- Faculty and Staff form the CRC Transition Center will promote the Faculty/Student Mentor Program at CSUS in order to link low-income transfer students with faculty mentors and upper-division peer mentors.
- CSUS and CRC will continue to actively inform students about the new Lower Division Transfer Program in 39 majors. These programs allow students to declare a major at CRC and satisfy at least 45 units in GE and the major to transfer to the University. In addition, the college staffs will work together to help assure that all CRC transfer degrees reflect the requirements of the LDTP.
- CSUS and CRC will annually review the Economic and Workforce Development projections for the region and make recommendations to address emerging trends.

The signing of this MOU was followed by a conference on November 9 which brought together the MOU-holding community colleges (and others developing MOU’s) in the region and CSUS representatives to discuss concrete ways to strengthen the collaborative to achieve better success for students. The participants broke into four discussion groups (Science/Technology/Engineering/Mathematics, Teacher Preparation, Early Childhood Education, and Regional Planning for Higher Education) to create plans for further discussions and action. The next conference is tentatively scheduled for Spring 07.

Dear Colleagues:

Felix Año Nuevo and best wishes for 2007!

I hope your holiday season was filled with joy, laughter and the warm comfort of family and friends. The beginning of the calendar year provides a perfect opportunity for our college to reflect on our record of success and to look forward to how we will better serve our students and our community in the coming year. This newsletter gives you a glimpse of both – what we are proud of, as well as our aspirations.

In my attempts to share a balanced perspective, there is both good news to share with you and areas that I’ll identify where we can clearly improve – and, I assure you, through our collective efforts, we will improve. First, the good news: the support for community colleges from our legislature and community has never been better. We achieved landmark legislation and record levels of financial and public support never before realized at our state’s community colleges. While many may argue – including me – that our system remains chronically underfunded, we took major strides towards alleviating the funding gap that exists between community colleges and other segments of higher education. The end result is better service to our most prized constituency – our students – and a better opportunity to demonstrate the benefits of the public’s investment in our colleges.

Our districtwide enrollment at Los Rios also grew this past fall to 77,000 students and at CRC we enrolled close to 1000 new students this year, bringing us very close to an overall campus enrollment of 13,000 students. Access and opportunity have long been the hallmarks of this college and seeing this kind of student interest at the college is very encouraging. Our students, by and large, are local students, mostly coming from a five to seven mile radius from the college and in general they are younger and more ethnically and linguistically diverse.

Now to the more challenging news that perhaps will come as no surprise to you: we have disproportionate student success. That is to say, not all ships are rising at the same pace, or to the same level. We know who these students are and are committed to better understanding their needs and to bridging the achievement gap. We are not daunted by this challenge and are not comforted by the fact that it is a national “problem.” This condition is ours to solve and, again, let me assure you, we will find better ways to make more of our students successful. Inside this edition, you will find some of our strategies to address this vexing and critically important issue.

I’ll end by recognizing and admiring the creative talent, intelligence and passion of our faculty, staff, and students that have characterized this campus for so long – it is truly an inspiration and one that will carry us forward towards better educational outcomes. I hope that you enjoy reading this edition of the President’s Letter and welcome you to forward any comments or reactions you might have.

Un abrazo cordial (a warm embrace),

Francisco C. Rodriguez, Ph.D
President
NEW CRC FOUNDATION BOARD MEMBERS

The Cosumnes River College Foundation is dedicated to providing CRC students with high quality educational experiences and opportunities. The Foundation is led by the Board of Directors, which provides vision and direction to achieve that goal. We are pleased to announce the addition of three new board members who share a passion for service and education.

STEVEN M. LADD, ED.D.

Steven M. Ladd, Ed.D., started as superintendent of the Elk Grove Unified School District in December 2004. He is only the fifth superintendent since the district formed in 1959. With 32 years in education, Florida, Oregon, and California, Dr. Ladd brings an impressive record of academic success and community involvement wherever he has been.

Dr. Ladd is well known for his communication and collaboration skills with people in education and the community, his development of leadership, the improvement of academic achievement in schools, and his expertise in technology and finance.

He earned a doctoral degree in educational leadership from Nova Southeastern University, a master’s degree in administration and supervision of vocational education, and a bachelor’s degree in industrial arts education from Florida International University. He also serves as a consultant and speaker for school districts and businesses throughout the country.

TIM MORAN

Tim Moran is the President of Methodist Hospital. He joined Methodist three years ago and has helped the hospital achieve a positive financial turn-around in addition to improvements within the hospital walls such as an Executive Chef, updating patient rooms and adding a new minimally invasive operating suite.

Tim’s leadership has also led to the recruitment of more doctors in the Elk Grove/South Sacramento community. He is currently focusing on a 10-year strategic plan for the hospital, which entails expanding healthcare into Elk Grove, building a bigger Emergency Room and applying for Level II trauma designation with the County of Sacramento.

JOHN PAPPAS

John Pappas was born in Sacramento, California in 1976. He was also raised in Sacramento, and graduated from Jesuit high school in 1994. In the fall of 1994 John began his college education at the University of Santa Clara. He graduated from the University of Santa Clara in 1998 with a bachelor’s degree in Finance, and minor in Philosophy.

John currently functions as the CFO and COO of Pappas Investments, the families Investment and Development Company. Under his direction, Pappas Investment’s has grown into a ten-employee firm with in house development, property management, and legal. John oversees the day-to-day operations of Pappas Investments, including leasing, management, construction, finance, and entitlements.

John is quite active in the International Counsel of Shopping Centers, is active in the local Greek Community, and is a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

CRC BASEBALL WINS!

NEW CRC FOUNDATION BOARD MEMBERS

STEVEN M. LADD, ED.D.

Steven M. Ladd, Ed.D., started as superintendent of the Elk Grove Unified School District in December 2004. He is only the fifth superintendent since the district formed in 1959. With 32 years in education, Florida, Oregon, and California, Dr. Ladd brings an impressive record of academic success and community involvement wherever he has been.

Dr. Ladd is well known for his communication and collaboration skills with people in education and the community, his development of leadership, the improvement of academic achievement in schools, and his expertise in technology and finance.

He earned a doctoral degree in educational leadership from Nova Southeastern University, a master’s degree in administration and supervision of vocational education, and a bachelor’s degree in industrial arts education from Florida International University. He also serves as a consultant and speaker for school districts and businesses throughout the country.

TIM MORAN

Tim Moran is the President of Methodist Hospital. He joined Methodist three years ago and has helped the hospital achieve a positive financial turn-around in addition to improvements within the hospital walls such as an Executive Chef, updating patient rooms and adding a new minimally invasive operating suite.

Tim’s leadership has also led to the recruitment of more doctors in the Elk Grove/South Sacramento community. He is currently focusing on a 10-year strategic plan for the hospital, which entails expanding healthcare into Elk Grove, building a bigger Emergency Room and applying for Level II trauma designation with the County of Sacramento.

JOHN PAPPAS

John Pappas was born in Sacramento, California in 1976. He was also raised in Sacramento, and graduated from Jesuit high school in 1994. In the fall of 1994 John began his college education at the University of Santa Clara. He graduated from the University of Santa Clara in 1998 with a bachelor’s degree in Finance, and minor in Philosophy.

John currently functions as the CFO and COO of Pappas Investments, the families Investment and Development Company. Under his direction, Pappas Investment’s has grown into a ten-employee firm with in house development, property management, and legal. John oversees the day-to-day operations of Pappas Investments, including leasing, management, construction, finance, and entitlements.

John is quite active in the International Counsel of Shopping Centers, is active in the local Greek Community, and is a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

CRC BASEBALL WINS!

Coach Tony Bloomfield is entering his 9th season as Head Coach of the Cosumnes River College Baseball team. “The Hawks have won three conference championships in the last four years, two Bay Valley and one Big 7, and have reloaded and in search of their 4th, which would make it three straight. Bloomfield has a record of 225-127 at CRC and is 687-241 at a head coach, making him the 19th winningest coach in California Community College history. Under his tutelage, the Hawks have gone to the playoffs 7 out of 8 years, advancing to the regional finals twice.

But this program is not about Coach Bloomfield. He will be the first to tell you that it is all about his players. Since his arrival at CRC, 100% of his players have either gone on to four-year universities or signed professional contracts. His players have earned over $1.5 Million in signing bonuses and almost $1 Million in scholarships. Six of his players signed National Letter of Intent last week before the season even started. Mike Drake and Trevor Gibson are on their way to San Jose State, Stephan Baustista is going to University of Nevada, Reno, Hunter Martinez will play at Sacramento State next year, and Jared Alexander and Alex Bates are going to attend the University of Hawaii.

Coach Bloomfield brought this winning tradition and emphasis on getting players to the next level with him from Los Angeles Harbor College, a program that has won three state championships, finished second three times and third three times. “Discipline is the key to our program here at CRC, our players work very hard,” says Coach Bloomfield. “It makes me very proud to see these young men fulfill their dreams of playing college and/or professional baseball, it’s an honor to be a part of that.”

The upcoming season looks to be another successful one for the Hawks, as they attempt to win yet another Big 7 Conference championship. “Our goals are to win a tournament, win the conference, and eventually win a state championship,” added Bloomfield. “Anything else is unacceptable.” With a solid core of returning players, don’t be surprised to see the Hawks at the top of the Big 7 standings again this season.

EDUCATION JUNKIE LOVES CRC

Stewart Green is a self-described “education junkie.” Retired from numerous careers, including running for political office, he has been attending Los Rios colleges since the 1970s.
Classified Senate Update

When I was asked to write about the Classified Senate for the President’s newsletter, I wondered, “what could I write about that would be of interest?” I decided to take this opportunity to introduce the Classified Senate and highlight some of our accomplishments.

Sometimes people ask: Who or what is the Classified Senate? The Classified Senate represents all classified staff on campus. There are currently about 260+ classified staff on campus in positions in all areas on campus including: custodial, campus police, admissions & records, business services, financial aid, EOP & ES, student support, bookstore, duplicating, child development center, student services, DSP&S, grounds, media services and the instructional and administrative areas. Classified members serve on all shared governance committees on campus and on many hiring panels.

The Classified Senate’s mission is to see all classified staff represented and the concerns about the students, staff, campus, and district are heard and considered in the decision-making processes. Most classified employees have direct contact with students so the Classified Senate is helping to develop and provide valuable workshops to benefit our classified staff.

During the past year, the Classified Senate has worked on many projects to benefit classified and the campus including:

- Classified Appreciation week (third week of May) events, including a raffle drawing to help raise funds and to enable the Senate to make a donation to the Alan Kono Scholarship. In addition, we also purchased a banner and buttons for the staff to wear for that week to show their Classified Pride!
- A Classified Retreat was held in July and offered sessions on the role of the Senate, workshops on leadership and customer service. The Retreat was made complete with an address by College President, Francisco Rodriguez.
- The Mentorship Program - We now will offer all new staff a one-on-one orientation with Tina Nguyen and a binder with all the information about the campus and Senate.
- Housekeeping Items - In addition to improving all the above we are also working on our web page and updating our bylaws and constitution to add in area representatives.

Through the Professional Development Committee, the Classified Senate is helping to develop and provide valuable workshops to benefit our classified staff. If you are interested in attending a workshop, you may apply for funding through Nancy Edmonson (x7329) in the Office of Instruction. Classified may apply for $600 to use on workshops or conferences. Additional funding is available if you a member of the LRCEA. Keep yourself updated professionally on what you need to help our students!

The Senate will continue to help our students, colleagues, college and district in the shared governance, hiring panels, committees and the many other events on campus. Please contact any of the classified senators for more information or attend our monthly meetings, which are the second Wednesday of every month.

Chou Chaeengnou, Classified Senate President
Contact us at: crccs@crc.losrios.edu

Textbook Scholarships

Fall 2006

Timing could not have been more perfect for Sara Vasquez.

“I was coming out of the financial aid office where my paperwork had been delayed. I was feeling low and really needing a break in my life. I walked over to where the drawing was being held and I was just in shock when they read my name.”

This fall the CRC Foundation decided to try something new as a way to benefit students. Board members decided to give away 20 $250 scholarships for a total of $5,000. The day of the event students were asked to put their name in the drawing from 8:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and then free hot dogs and soda were handed out. A total of 899 students signed up, including Sara Vasquez. “My professors really encouraged all the students to put their name in. I don’t usually put my name in drawings, but I did this time and it was just an answer to my prayers,” Vasquez said.

A single mom of three kids, Vasquez said she has been checking textbooks out of the library and making copies of the chapters to read because she can’t afford to buy them. “I know it may seem strange to some people, but I do whatever I can to survive and this was one way to lessen the cost of college. I am so grateful to be able to buy a textbook from this scholarship,” she added. “I am down to making copies of just one textbook now and that is really great…this has truly lifted my spirit.”

Foundation President Dan Lawrence, kicked off the event by talking about the foundation. CRC President Francisco Rodriguez and Associated Student Government President Christine Jacquint followed with some remarks of their own. After the formalities, the drawing began. Twenty names were selected and students (who had to be present to win) came up to claim their $250 scholarship prize.

“We’re so pleased with the response from students,” said Foundation President Dan Lawrence. “We expected a couple hundred, but when I found out we had almost 900 names in the bucket, I was shocked. It was a very pleasant surprise. What a wonderful feeling to be able to help students directly and the foundation was proud to be a part of it.”

The other 19 scholarship winners were: Michelle Barbaria, Crystal Bell, Mustansar Chaudry, Rachelle Churchill, Sonja Correa, Thai Dao, Min Hwang, Steven Lz, Joshua Lewis, Alben Luo, Paul Magninnoy, Yesenia Mendoza, Anne O’Neil, Jessic Praisad, Dustin Stafford, Jack Tran, Nhon Vang, Tracey Williams, and Joshua Xuong.

The other 19 scholarship winners were: Michelle Barbaria, Crystal Bell, Mustansar Chaudry, Rachelle Churchill, Sonja Correa, Thai Dao, Min Hwang, Steven Lz, Joshua Lewis, Alben Luo, Paul Magninnoy, Yesenia Mendoza, Anne O’Neil, Jessic Praisad, Dustin Stafford, Jack Tran, Nhon Vang, Tracey Williams, and Joshua Xuong.

Save the Date!

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 2007

Gala

Proceeds from this year’s event will support the CRC Athletic and Physical Education Programs.

The drawing Vasquez is talking about is the first ever Textbook Scholarship event held on August 30. The Foundation will give another $5,000 away in the Spring.
E-ACCREDITATION FOR CRC CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Celestine Halligan, Child Development Center Supervisor. “They also have the convenience of the center being right where they attend classes, so less trotting around town in the traffic before getting to school.”

Full time student and single mom, Nasrin Khalili has three children in the CRC Child Development Center and couldn’t agree more. “For me, having a child development center on campus means a lot. You can always check on your kids throughout the day between classes and you know it’s a very safe environment for them because the staff is so experienced,” Khalili said.

“The Center is great, very professional and affordable. My kids are learning a lot as well,” Khalil said. “My kids are very happy and they are surrounded by a bunch of wonderful other kids and teachers. It’s a place where I don’t have to worry about them and it’s making my life much easier.”

The CRC child development center is different from most private and public centers as accreditation is voluntary, and most don’t go through the process. “We choose to go through the process to let others in our college community and surrounding Sacramento/Elk Grove community know that we value a high quality program for the children and the public in general.”

With accreditation, the staff will now be putting together an annual report that details any staff changes, or improvements the center will be focusing on for the next four years. This is a comprehensive process of internal self-study, invited external professional review that verifies compliance with the criteria for high quality early childhood programs.

“Students of CRC who are supplemented by CalWORKs/TANF funds can get most, if not all of their child-care costs covered, and that is really helpful for many families,” Cox added.

For more information on the child development center or early childhood programs, call (916) 694-7262. This high quality program is an added benefit for students in the early childhood education program as well. The staff in the child development center and the faculty teaching early childhood education work collaboratively to provide an education that is knowledgeable of current ECE issues and trends, and one that is of high quality in areas of administration, curriculum, safety and health, and family relations in our lab settings,” Halligan continued.

“The collaboration with our Early Childhood Education Professors and staff in the Child Development Center provides an outstanding learning experience for our Early Childhood Education students,” said Ryan Cox, Dean of Business and Family Science. “The NAEYC accreditation is a testament to our exceptional staff, faculty and program. I can’t think of a better childcare environment than our Child Development Center, which is open to both CRC students’ children and the public in general.”

On Saturday, November 4, 2006 the Cosumnes River College Athletic Department held it’s first annual Hall of Fame Dinner and Induction Ceremony. One hundred and twenty people attended the event which started with a social hour and concluded with six individuals inducted in the inaugural class.

Past student/athletes, coaches and administrators as well as the present department faculty and the college President were all present. The MC for the event was Dick Cristofani (former CRC track and field coach). The guest speaker for the evening was Rick Jennings, a former Oakland Raider who won a super bowl ring his first season. Rick is currently the Executive Chief Officer at the Center for Fathers and Families in South Sacramento. The center was founded in 1993 and provides enrichment and educational resources for fathers and fatherless families.

The event was a huge success and in the words of one of the inductees, “It was truly one of the most memorable nights of my life”. Next year’s Hall of Fame Dinner and Induction Ceremony will be held Saturday, November 3, 2007.

E-waste Recycling Event a Success

The colleges of the Los Rios Community College District, including Cosumnes River College thanks the community for the successful e-waste recycling event held October 30, 2006. It was the largest one day event of its kind in the region. Typical one day events take in around 10,000 pounds of electronic waste - CRC took in more than 50,000 pounds (the highest of any of the four colleges in the district). That included more than 32,000 pounds of televisions and monitors.

District-wide, we recycled more than 185,000 pounds of e-waste.

In addition to keeping electronic waste out of our landfills, the event brought in more than $5,000 for CRC student scholarships. The Los Rios District colleges will likely be holding another e-waste recycling event in the spring. Look for announcements in the newspapers.

The 2006 Inaugural Class Included:

Del Bandy
CRC’s first athletic director, first baseball coach and softball coach from 1979-1989.

James Clark

Christine (Tanaka) Jang
Gymnast 1977 & 1979 (state champion both years).

Coit Conant

Chris (Kruse) Duarte
Softball athlete 1980-1981 (conference MVP all region and all state teams, CRC’s most outstanding athlete both years).

Jerry Conway
The Senate has had a busy fall semester, starting off with a productive retreat day in August, and continuing work on a variety of projects throughout the fall semester.

Here are some highlights of the work that has been completed or is underway:

- The Senate met with Rick Shubert, Chair of the Academic Integrity Committee, and worked on revising catalog language concerning Credit by Examination.
- Senators polled their constituents, discussed, and approved the move from a seven-day final exam schedule to a five day final exam schedule. This will allow us to have more instructional time, although we will still have fewer instructional days given the compressed calendar which will be implemented in fall 2007.
- The Senate is working on creating a Standard Operating Procedure for Test Proctoring services.
- A few committees going through some changes on campus are: the Cultural Competence and Equity Committee is changing their charge to include more direct oversight of on campus cultural events, including an increased budget to support events, the Technology Committee is changing their title to Distance Education and Technology Committee to better reflect what they do, and the Social Responsibility Committee has been creating a Mission Statement.
- Rick Boeck, Chair of the Honors Program, informed the Senate of some changes in how that program is structured is being considered.
- The Senate hosted a guest from the District Office Human Resources Department, Dolly Green, and heard all about the Faculty Diversity Internship Program. On campus faculty who are interested in participating as mentors are invited to email Dolly, or speak to your Senate representative. A $500 stipend is available for this work.
- Speaking of the District, at the District Academic Senate work is being done on a comprehensive way to evaluate college presidents, and the District Curriculum Committee is working on Best Practices for bringing brand new programs into the district.
- Finally, and most recently, Georgine and Jamye participated in the Statewide Senate Fall Plenary session in Southern California in October. Here they had an opportunity to review and vote on resolutions from other California Community Colleges and network with faculty from all over the state.
- Look for some revisions in committee mission statements and scope as we work to renew the energy and usefulness of shared governance on campus. In the spring, these projects will continue, along with elections for a new executive team. If you have been thinking of getting involved, now is a great time! From all of us at the Academic Senate, I wish you a wonderful spring semester!

Marjorie Duffy, Academic Senate Secretary

In an effort to make updating our Web site more user-friendly, the campus will soon be going live with a new content management system (CMS).

After researching numerous vendors and products to choose the best content management system (CMS) for Cosumnes River College, the CRC Web team, consisting of Mark Ford, Stephen McGoughlin, Christina Ocrant and Kristie West, chose Ingenix.

Mark Ford was given a partial sabbatical to do the research, which was so comprehensive that all three of our sister colleges and our district offices have also adopted the same CMS.

Since then, the team has been meeting with representatives from Ingenix to determine what the college’s needs are and get the implementation and training process started. Christina Ocrant has been working nonstop getting templates prepared for the Ingenix representatives to implement into the new system.

Using the chosen CMS, CRC Web pages will have a consistent look and feel, which will make them easier to navigate in order to locate information.

The CMS will also allow multiple editors to easily add, modify, and remove Web site content without needing the expertise of a Webmaster; this will result in better distribution of timely and accurate information on our CRC Web pages.

Training is scheduled to begin in December or January, with pages going live soon thereafter.

Ingenix to determine what the college’s needs are and get the implementation and training process started. Christina Ocrant has been working nonstop getting templates prepared for the Ingenix representatives to implement into the new system.

Using the chosen CMS, CRC Web pages will have a consistent look and feel, which will make them easier to navigate in order to locate information.

The CMS will also allow multiple editors to easily add, modify, and remove Web site content without needing the expertise of a Webmaster; this will result in better distribution of timely and accurate information on our CRC Web pages.

Training is scheduled to begin in December or January, with pages going live soon thereafter.

I n an effort to make updating our Web site more user-friendly, the campus will soon be going live with a new content management system (CMS).

After researching numerous vendors and products to choose the best content management system (CMS) for Cosumnes River College, the CRC Web team, consisting of Mark Ford, Stephen McGoughlin, Christina Ocrant and Kristie West, chose Ingenix.

Mark Ford was given a partial sabbatical to do the research, which was so comprehensive that all three of our sister colleges and our district offices have also adopted the same CMS.

Since then, the team has been meeting with representatives from Ingenix to determine what the college's needs are and get the implementation and training process started. Christina Ocrant has been working nonstop getting templates prepared for the Ingenix representatives to implement into the new system.

Using the chosen CMS, CRC Web pages will have a consistent look and feel, which will make them easier to navigate in order to locate information.

The CMS will also allow multiple editors to easily add, modify, and remove Web site content without needing the expertise of a Webmaster; this will result in better distribution of timely and accurate information on our CRC Web pages.

Training is scheduled to begin in December or January, with pages going live soon thereafter.

Ingenix to determine what the college’s needs are and get the implementation and training process started. Christina Ocrant has been working nonstop getting templates prepared for the Ingenix representatives to implement into the new system.

Using the chosen CMS, CRC Web pages will have a consistent look and feel, which will make them easier to navigate in order to locate information.

The CMS will also allow multiple editors to easily add, modify, and remove Web site content without needing the expertise of a Webmaster; this will result in better distribution of timely and accurate information on our CRC Web pages.

Training is scheduled to begin in December or January, with pages going live soon thereafter.
New Faces...New Places

Cheri Fortin
Associate Professor, Theatre Arts

Heather Hutcheson
Associate Professor, English

Joaquin Jimenez
Clerk, Humanities & Social Science

Claudia Leal
Administrative Assistant, Humanities & Social Science

Kathy McClain
Dean, Planning & College Research

Jason Roberts
Associate Professor, Welding

Christine Scherbaum
Clerk, Admissions & Records

Marjorie Schreiber
Public Services Librarian

Robert Montañez
Dean, Science, Math & Engineering

Maha Myren
Associate Professor, Math

Lauri Ann Nicolosi
Educational Media Design Specialist

Jennifer Panag
Administrative Assistant, Business & Family Science

Hazel Secretario
Graphic Designer

Emmanuel Sigauke
Associate Professor, English

Kathryn Smith
Associate Professor, Music

Minh Tran
Evaluator, Admissions & Records

Michelle Rizzella
Associate Professor, Psychology

Mark Lee
Associate Professor, Chemistry

Gennadiy Marusich
IT Technician

Shawna McCoy
Bookstore Buyer

Kimberley Williams-Brito
Associate Professor, Math

Amanda Wolcott-Paskey
Associate Professor, Anthropology

Thanks!

Marybeth Buechner
Interim Dean, Science, Math & Engineering

Don Tingley
Interim Dean, Careers & Technology

Thank you for your service and leadership!